A Times dispatch says notes have passed be tween Lord Lyons and Mr. Seward about the Trent affair. Owing to an important telegraphic error, it be comes necessary to say that the recent report of the select committee on Government Contracts was approved of by Representative Felton, one of the committee, with the exception of that which referred to the Military Department of the West. [Tribune's Correspondence.]

Lord Lyons yesterday made his first official communication to the Secretary of State, who at once set about the preparation of a reply.— The contents of the dispatches are known to no one except those two, the President and proba-bly Gen. McClellan. The general opinion among outsiders is that they do not present an ultimatum, but leave room for negotiation.

As regards the statement that the Cabinet is determined to yield to England, even to the point of surrendering Mason and Slidell rather than fight her, which the Herald of Saturday makes boldly and the Times insinuates, is utterly false.

A Richmond correspondent of the Nashville

Union and American learns from an authentic source that President Davis has under consideration a matter which would in all probability result in the resignation of General Wise and all the officers in his legion; in which event O. Jennings Wise, his son, would resume his post as editor of the Eoquirer and oppose the Ad-ministration with all his power. This would be a most unfortunate circumstance at this juncture, when a single turn of the wheel may bring endwhen a single turn of the wheel may bring end-less disaster to the South.

The Government to-day received intelligence, brought by the last ateamer from Europe, from General Scott, stating that he intended to take passage in the next steamer for the United States. The General does not state the object of his return, but he undoubtedly brings infor-mation to our Government of important move-ments abroad. It must be a serious matter, or General Scott would not return so unexpectedly.

General Scott would not return so unexpectedly, for it is well known that he had made arrangements to remain for a long time.

The city has been excited to-day by a silly rumor that the Government had agreed to surrender Mason and Slidell to Great Britain, and that they were to be given upon Tuesday next. New York, Dec. 23.—Levi Mann, colored, formerly a waiter on the steamer Star of the West, and who for a long time has been a prisoner in Alabama, "arrived here recently from Fort Pickens. He informs the Herald that there are over eight thousand negroes hiding in the woods in Alabama. They have vague ideas of the war.

Mann was at the rebel guard-house at Warrington during the bombardment. He says when Fort Pickens opened on the rebels in the navy yard a regiment of Missiesippi troops were on morning parade. The attack was wholly unexpected by the rebel soldiers, and when the firing commenced they broke ranks, and despite firing commenced they broke ranks, and despite all the entreaties of their officers retreated in double-quick time, throwing away their rifles, blankets and equipments.

During the bombardment the Union shot and shell dismounted three guns in Fort McRae, and breached it in several places, so that the rebels found it untenantable and consequently evacu-ated it. The buildings in the Navy Yard were all perforated with shots, and the village of Warrington was entirely destroyed.

Mann is of the opinion that had the bombardment been followed by the landing of Union troops on the enemy's soil, their efforts could not but have been attended with success, so thoroughly were the rebels demoralized. He says there are many Union men at Pensacola who are perforce in the rebel army, and only wait in the hope of a speedy deliverance by the landing of Union troops.

Hog Markets.

ST. LOUIS.

The market is rather dull to-day. We hear of no sales of hogs, meats or lard. Prices for hogs have declined and buyers are not willing to go beyond $3@ 3 18%. Feeders are not willing to take those prices and there are no sale. The weather is more favorable for killing, and in that respect matters are a little more brisk. We do not satisficate much movement, nor any advance in prices until it can be determined whether or not we are o have war with England. If we do prices will fall still lower, even if buying is not entirely stopped.—
If not, it is probable an advance will be established. Our report to day is as follows:

"AROUND THE FALLS." Killed to-day. To date. Hamilton & Bro...... 860 Hufiman, Duncan & Co.... 590 Jarvis & Co..... Owstey & Co. 310 O. W. Thomas & Co. 1990 A. B. White & Co. 850 MeDonald & Co. (S. A.) D. Ricketts & Co. (Jeff.) 4851

Receipts, 4.939.

The favorable change in the weather to-day created a better feeling in the market, and business at once became active. Bayers and sellers soon came to get for on prices, at an advance of from 5 to 10c $\phi$ cwt, at which large sales were made, chiefly for packing. The receipts to-day were only about half those of yeaterday, and the amount of stock on hand has rapidly diminished. Should the weather continue cold, the ensuing twenty-four hours will find the yards nearly cleaned out. The market closed firm at $2.35\(\phi\)255.—[Times, 21.

Dressed hogs opened with a little more settylly and better receipts, with sales at $3.83 30 for good average weight, and rather more for choice extra hogs. On change there was but little done and the market closed quiet. Among the sales were the following: 9 average ing 220 8, 23 av 250, 35 av -, 4 av 320, all at $3.25; 12 av 250 35 av -, 4 av 320, all at $3.25; 12 av 250 35 av -, 3 av 300 bb, 5 av -, 3 av 300 and 30 div on 800 ha at $3.83; 10 av 300 bb, 5 av -, 3 av 300 and 30 div on 800 ha at $3.83; 10 av 300 bb, 5 av -, 3 av 300 and 30 div on 800 ha at $3.83; 10 av 300 bb, 5 av -, 3 av 300 average in the same pressures conveyed by mid and average in the same pressures conveyed by mid and average in the same pressures conveyed by mid and average in the same pressures conveyed by mid and average in the same pressures conveyed by mid and average in the same pressures conveyed by mid and average in the same pressures conveyed by mid and average in the county of Franklin, State of Ohio, and is the town of Worthington, and in the town of Worthington, in said Franklin county, other the town of Worthington, in said Franklin county, other than a same pressure conveyed by a average plat of the town of Worthington, in said Franklin county, other than a said Frankl
